Information for applicants applying to courses that require completion and clearances of a Disclosure Barring Service and Occupational Health

This information is important; please read it carefully.

All offers for undergraduate full time, pre-registration and accredited courses in the Institute of Health and Social Care at London South Bank University are subject to the provision of satisfactory information as set out below.

London South Bank University reserves the right to withdraw the offer of a place on any of our programmes if applicants are not able to fully comply with the conditions of the offer.

Accuracy

1. By accepting the offer of a place in the Institute of Health and Social Care and the two Schools in the Institute you confirm and declare that the information you have provided in support of your application is accurate and honest to the best of your knowledge
2. If any of the provision is false, incomplete, or misleading you may render your application and enrolment invalid and this will entitle the Institute to withdraw your offer, or withdraw you from the University
3. The Institute requires all students to provide satisfactory proof of identity at interview and proof of identity and qualifications at point of registration

Disclosure Barring Service

1. Any offer made for a course that involves working with children or vulnerable adults, is subject to satisfactory completion of an enhanced Disclosure and Barring Service check before you start the course. Once you have accepted our offer you will be sent further details to complete this check. This must be completed within 4 weeks. The Institute of Health and Social Care reserves its right to withdraw your offer or withdraw you from the University if you are not able to complete the DBS check within the timescales publicised.

Occupational Health

2. If your course requires pre-course health checks, any offer made is subject to satisfactory completion of these pre-course health checks. Once you have accepted our offer you will be sent further details to complete the occupational health questionnaire online. This must be completed within 4 weeks. LSBU reserves its right to withdraw your offer or withdraw you from the University if you are not able to complete the pre-course health checks within the timescales publicised.
